The ICP in CSR Programme has been well designed and executed online training course of IICA. It is a power packed course of learning providing incredible knowledge and rich experience. The contents have been concise and the re-enforcement sessions have been well planned and delivered seamlessly without any technical flaw, on weekends to ensure attendance of all learners. The choice of faculties has been good and some are really excellent with lots of experience in the field. Co-ordination, communications and management of the programme have been flawless. Though interrupted by unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic, all the requirements of the course have been successfully completed by all learners. Kudos to Team IICA! May please keep up the good initiative for the benefit of many more learners in future!

The programme designed by IICA has a good blend of theory with practice. This course provides a 360 degree view of the social landscape and a context and perspective, multiple stakeholders may have to a CSR project i.e., donors, implementation agency, beneficiaries, policy makers, technical partners, etc. This understanding is crucial in designing and planning for a successful project with sustainable impact. By inviting guest speakers from different backgrounds to the course, IICA has made it even more insightful and interesting as we get perspectives from experts with varied practical experiences. The attachments to a Corporate and NGO is an excellent concept to learn on the job. Despite the course being mainly online, I believe that IICA has been successful in creating a community of CSR professionals. The help and guidance from course co-coordinators and professors has been tremendous. Overall, very well designed course and well executed.
